

Putting the fun back in functional

Fun and functional for Connor's room. When the Brady family set about renovating the family home they wanted to create fun, yet practical spaces for both of their children to learn and grow.

The Brady's son Connor is an active child with an interest in a wide range of sports. Translate that into mum speak and it equates to loads of sports gear, medals, awards and memorabilia - and while every parent loves a happy and successful child, most don't love the chaos that this brings to their bedrooms. Enter Trade Essentials Pegboard from Laminex New Zealand. A unique and cost effective wall lining solution, Pegboard is patterned with small holes that are the perfect size for hooks and clips. This not only enables the display of artwork and childhood treasures, but also allows for shelving to be changed and moved to suit changing tastes as the room's occupants grow. It is the perfect backdrop to hang medals and sports gear such as rackets or bags - keeping everything off the floor and tidy.

Made from Trade Essentials Hardboard which is known for its strength and durability, versatile Pegboard can be curved, shaped, laminated, painted or lacquered to suit any style.

Inspired by utilitarian shop fittings the Brady family couldn't be happier with their choice and with the renovated space. Says Connor, "I love my room it's epic! It's easy to tidy when my sister comes in and messes it up and I can display all my awards."
